Tutoring Experience

With over a decade of experience, I have supported students across IB, A-Level, and IGCSE Geography, helping them master geographic concepts and excel in their assessments. My tutoring extends to creating custom study resources, focusing on areas where each student needs targeted improvement.

My approach involves connecting academic content with real-world applications, which has allowed my students to engage deeply with the subject matter. Many have successfully pursued advanced studies in Geography, supported by the foundation and confidence developed through our sessions.
